

Facilitating the Future of Work with World-class Collaboration Services

Video Collaboration

What We Do

We offer a complete end-to-end managed service for your entire video collaboration environment. By empowering organizations to support their users from any location and any device, we help drive productivity and achieve better business outcomes.

We ensure your users get the very best collaboration experience and enable them to operate effectively regardless of whether they sit in the office or remotely.

Our Services

AV Design and Implementation

We offer scalable, enterprise-grade design solutions for any meeting space.

From meeting rooms to large venue projects such as sports venues, we will work with you to design your meeting space, so it provides the best suited technology solutions as well as meeting the needs of your organization today and into the future.

Our builds integrate and support multi-vendor technologies under a single SLA.

Managed Services

With our feature-rich managed video collaboration service, we guarantee the best collaboration user-experience for your organization, no matter where they are based or how they are connecting. We integrate technologies from all the main vendors to ensure that whatever the application, no one is excluded.

We increase the overall efficiency of your collaboration environment, while maintaining a robust and reliable experience for all your users. We'll know if there is an issue before your users do and will proactively remediate.

Meet Services

Our Meet Services let your users connect securely from any device and location.

Offering quick and easy access to video meetings, we enable organizations to enjoy the full benefits of their video communication technology, with increased reliability, flexibility, and cost efficiencies.

Professional Services

Our global team of Video Collaboration experts help organizations shape their life-cycle strategy and the implementation of video collaboration solutions.

Together we help to deliver a mutually beneficial customer strategy based on real world experience in our specialist field.

Complimentary services

Expert support

Our 'real-time' support services are underpinned by a global team of experts. Offering 24/7 support across the globe, we deliver proactive and reactive support to ensure your collaboration environment is running at optimum levels.

The business challenges that we solve:

Hybrid Working

Allow users to connect from any location or device, securely and efficiently.

Increase Business Efficiencies

Experience improved service standards, increased reliability and reduced operational costs. Reduce the need for on-site IT support requirements and resource.

Migration and Simplification of Self-service

Empower your users to adopt better self-service practices and benefit from a more efficient user experience. Deliver a best-in-class service to end users with minimal on-site support presence.

Integration and Interoperability of Multi-vendor Technology

Integration and management of multi-vendor collaboration technology through a single supplier and SLA.

Remote Management of Services

Support your office locations with little or no on-site presence. Remote and life-cycle management of meeting space technology.

What makes us different?

1

Proven – We have a proven and trusted solution demonstrated through our large global install base and highly satisfied customers.

2

Experience – Our depth of knowledge and experience in both AV and managed services allows us to provide the best collaboration experience in the market.

3

Global – We deliver the same methodology across all our global locations allowing us to support both regional and international projects.

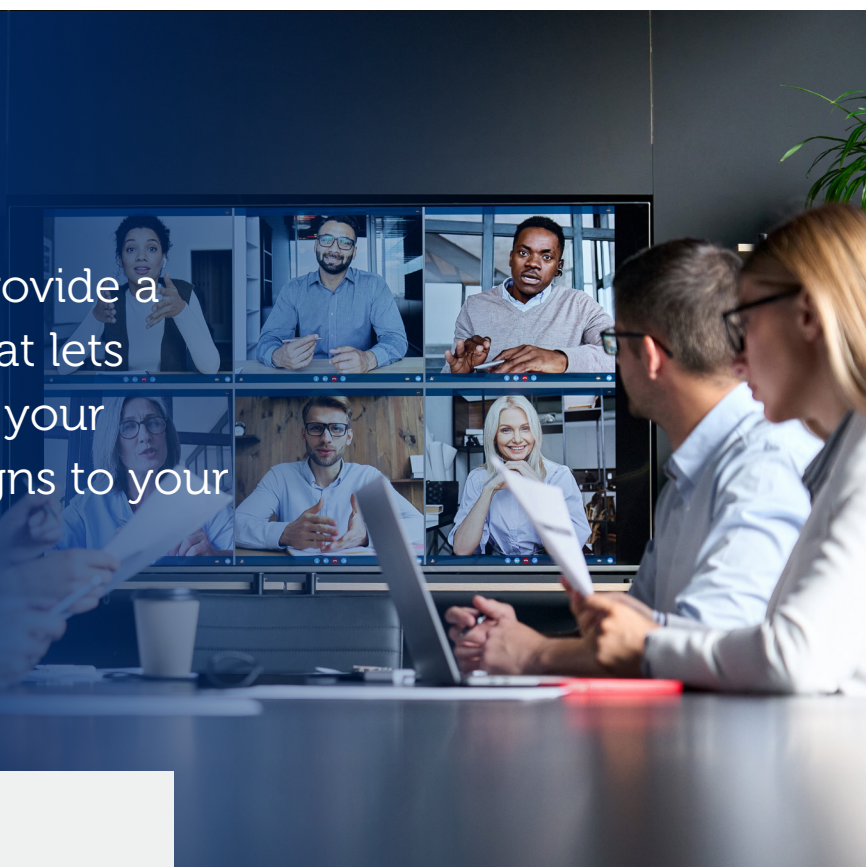

Hybrid Working Facilitates the Future of Work

Video collaboration needs to build a hybrid working environment, which engages users wherever they might be. The meeting experience needs to be a premium experience no matter where the participants are joining from.

By ensuring your teams have the correct tools to contribute and collaborate, you will build and support your corporate culture, while attracting and retaining your most valuable assets—your people.

Video Collaboration must be secure, scalable and more importantly, flexible to ensure it meets the needs of your organization today and into the future.

So how do you ensure you provide a collaboration environment that lets your employees thrive, keeps your operational costs low and aligns to your business strategy?

Talk to Us Today

To find out more information about our Video Collaboration services or to discover our customer projects, please visit our website or contact the team directly.

neweratech.com/vc

877-696-7720 | solutions@neweratech.com